Guthrie, O. T., June 29 .- (Special.)-The prediction iterated and reiterated in the Eagle that Auditor Nichols was not likely to be disturbed in his position for some time has been verified by the action of the governor in accepting Nichols' resignation to take effect October 1. The governor intimated last Saturday that he would possibly make the appointment this week, but the complex situation which confronts the new administration caused him to change his mind, and Mr. Nichols will continue to draw the comfortable salary attached to his office for a period of three months longer. There is not so much injustice done the Republican aspirants, either. for it will be remembered that four years ago Rev. Parker, who was auditor under Governor Seay, refused to give up the office and stubbornly held on for a year after the change of adimnistration. It is rather tough on the candidates for the auditor's position to be kept in suspense through the warmest months of plenary power as auditor. In fact, on the first day of the coming month, Auassistant, which position he is slated to retain under the auditor that is to be. McCabe had whetted his ruby lips preparatory to swallowing the school land pie, and his heart turned to stone when the choice morsel went to another. It was the governor's sincere desire, however, to take care of McCabe, and the presented by making him chief deputy auditor. It is a ly Repu

The appointment of McCabe is considered to clear the way for the appointment of A. C. Scott of Oklahoma City as superintendent of schools, and the knowing ones are predicting that such will the case. Ex-Governor Renfrow was making a social call on his successor this morning, when the matter of the school superintendency was casually brought up, and the ex-governor took occasion to pay a warm tribute to Scott. It is furthermore significant that Governor Barnes has been mentioning Scott's name more frequent of late in discussing the auditorship difficulty, with two or more men, well supplied and altogether the prospect appear quite with camp equipage, halts in the city bright for the eloquent orator from Ok-Ishoma City.

Another plum that will drop within the next few days will be the apopintment of Fred L. Wenner as the governor's private secretary. Wenner is a spaculate: per man-paradoxical as it would seemand the governor will meet with commendation in thus perpetuating the precedent established by his predecessor in putting newspaper men on goard. spectfully, J. A. MANN. Hennessey, O. T., June 29 .- To the Edfor of the Eagle: My attention was just now called to the statement in the Eagle of June 27, that Judge J. C. Robperts was a supporter of Thomas B. Reed for president. I believe in fairness to all and will say that I had the honor of presiding at the Kingfisher county convention at Dover, in March, 1896, which elected Mr. Robberts as our delegate to the national convention, and n his remarks accepting the position be placed himself fairly on record as being in favor of William McKinley as his first choice as a candidate for president.
